ACCOUNTING FOR BUSINESS GROWTH AND TRANSITION

It's evident that an accounting department has an important day-to-day role to fulfill, but there is much more that can be done to help a company be successful. In the case of growing companies, it's critical to understand where the business is at, the resources it needs to support future growth, potential gaps, and how they could be addressed.

CONTENT DESCRIPTION & KEY CONCEPTS

This course includes a range of topics that might be encountered during the evolution and growth of a company. Those who work in the accounting function have an opportunity to pro actively obtain an understanding of these areas and put the necessary pieces in place so that growth initiatives and transition will be less onerous when the time comes. At the end of the day, providing real value is what accounting departments should strive to achieve; generating benefit well beyond the numbers.

CERTIFIED SKILLSETS YOU WILL LEARN

The student will achieve the following competencies:

- Understand how growth in a company could impact the accounting function
- Understand how to work with the technical areas that could arise as a result of expanded operations, including consolidated financial statements and foreign exchange
- Identify and accumulate the information typically provided when a business is sold
- Understand the due diligence process and the financial information to be accumulated and assessed in evaluating the purchase of a business
- Gain an awareness of the general ways in which ownership and management of a business could transition, including family succession, employee succession, and sale of either assets or shares
- Understand how an accounting function could be enhanced to provide value beyond it's typical day-to-day role, including in times of growth and transition
